Women Leading Government

Helping women succeed in public service

Examine the sustainability of your personal resources in this workshop, so you can Renew and Revive: Learning How to Flourish in Times of Loss and Transition

Date: Tuesday, May 17, 2011

Time: 11:30 a.m. — 1:30 p.m., lunch and presentation
1:30 p.m. — 3:00 p.m., optional afternoon workshop

Location: San Mateo Main Library, 55 West 3rd Avenue, San Mateo

Learning How to Flourish in Times of Loss and Transition

THE FORD INSTITUTE
For Transformational Training

Sustainability is usually associated with the efficient use of environmental resources and not our own personal resources. All too often our busy work life can leave us depleted of the valuable resources we need to keep ourselves, our organizations, and our communities thriving during difficult times.

Jeff Malone, an integrative coach with The Ford Institute for Transformational Training, presents a workshop where you will gain a new perspective on the importance of maintaining your own personal resources; allowing you to encourage and support the people and programs you manage. Return to work with a renewed sense of responsibility and a revived passion of self!

Lunch is included. The optional afternoon workshop will end at 3:00 p.m.

Early bird registration (must be received by May 5th):

- $30 for WLG members
- $35 for non-members

After May 5th:

- $35 for WLG members
- $40 for non-members

Please make check payable to Women Leading Government

RSVP to:
Women Leading Government
c/o Sarona Vivanco/City of Santa Clarita
23920 Valencia Blvd.
Santa Clarita, CA 91355

Name _____

Agency _____

E-mail _____

WLG Member rates: $30 (early bird)
$35 (rec'd after 5/5)

Non-member rates: $35 (early bird)
$40 (rec'd after 5/5)

Please note that the early bird rate applies only if payment for your reservation is received by May 5th. Thank you!