

Women Leading Government

Helping women succeed in public service

Energy and transportation: Two topics of great interest for Californians and government policy makers at the federal, state and local levels. Two topics requiring interactions and innovation between the worlds of science, public administration, business, and education!

Date: Wednesday, September 1, 2010

Time: 11:30 a.m. — 1:30 p.m.

Livermore Public Library Civic Center, 1188 S. Livermore Avenue, City of Livermore

Women Leading Innovation

Dr. Regina Bonanno is the Program Director for Photon Science and Applications, which focuses on advanced photon capabilities in support of Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory's national security missions. Prior to leading her current team of scientists and engineers in the development and demonstration of large laser-based systems and advanced optical technologies, Dr. Bonanno played a lead role in NIF, the National Ignition Facility.

As Manager of Sandia National Laboratories/CA's Government Relations. Karen Scott serves as the liaison between Sandia and Congress and the CA State Government. Among her achievements, she is pleased to have contributed toward the initial planning and building of support for the Livermore Valley Open Campus, Joint BioEnergy Institute (JBEI) and i-GATE, the Innovation for Green Advanced Transportation Excellence partnership. She is on the Executive Committee of the East Bay Economic Development Alliance and is Sandia's Lab Affiliate Representative to the California Council on Science and Technology.

WLG welcomes Dr. Gina Bonanno, Program Director for Photon Science and Applications, Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory, and Ms. Karen P. Scott, Government Relations Director, Sandia National Laboratories — California as presenters at the September luncheon. Their presentations will focus on tips for success in conversations and collaborations between science & technology businesses and local governments.

Lunch will provide an entrée choice of chicken scampi or penne pasta with Roma tomatoes, fresh basil and olive oil, accompanied by seasonal fresh vegetables, vintage or harvest salad, rolls with butter, and an assortment of delicious cookies.

Early bird registration (must be received by August 25th):
