

Executive Institutes and Training Resources

ICMA Gettysburg Leadership Institute

The ICMA Gettysburg Leadership Institute offers an opportunity to meet with a small group of other senior local government managers in order to study the leadership lessons of Gettysburg. This is an exploration of personal leadership, organizational effectiveness, and the lessons of history.

<http://icma.org/gettysburg>

ICMA SEI Leadership Institute

The ICMA SEI Leadership Institute offers a unique opportunity for you to experience the core of the two-week Senior Executive Institute packed into one week. You will spend valuable class and networking time with members of the “next gen” Leadership ICMA Class and with other senior managers.

<http://icma.org/sei>

University of Virginia Senior Executive Institute

The Senior Executive Institute is a two-week residential program for top local government administrators focusing on leadership, democratic principles, and high-performance organizations.

<http://www.coopercenter.org/leadership/sei-program-details>

Berkeley Executive Seminar

The BES is an interactive one-week training program designed for city managers, county and regional administrators as well as other high-level state officials who would like to develop innovative skills in management and to share their insight with similarly experienced peers.

<http://gspp.berkeley.edu/programs/eip/bes.html>

Harvard University Kennedy School of Government Executive Education

The John F. Kennedy School of Government Executive Education Program is dedicated to preparing leaders in democratic societies for service in public affairs.

<http://ksgexecprogram.harvard.edu/>

Mid-America Regional Council Leadership Academy

The academy is designed for senior local government agency executives with leadership responsibilities at the division or organizational level, including city and county administrators, assistant administrators, department directors and division managers. Other key executives who are in a position to influence both the day-to-day and strategic management of their organizations are encouraged to attend.

http://www.marc.org/gti/Executive_Management/leadership.htm

Executive Institutes and Training Resources

University of Colorado at Denver Rocky Mountain Program

The Rocky Mountain Program is an intensive eight-day residential leadership seminar that allows participants to reflect on their role in the public sector, examine the changing and demanding environment in which they operate, and develop skills that help facilitate effective public action.

<http://www.rmp.cudenver.edu/>

Valley Leadership Development Program in Phoenix

Valley Leadership has top-notch programs designed to produce committed, well-informed leaders who are passionate about serving their communities.

<http://www.valleyleadership.org/>

If you would like to see another executive training program on this resource list, e-mail credentialing@icma.org*