

Come Celebrate FUSION Art and Learning

Please join the International Hispanic Network Sunday, October 7th, 2012 at the Hyatt Hotel 122 N. Second Street, Phoenix, Arizona

The Phoenix Fridas is an art collective that pays homage to Frida Kahlo, the important Latina cultural and feminist icon, by dressing in her likeness and selling Mexican flavored folk art. Artists work in diverse mediums: paints, beads, and textiles. Their motto: We paint. We create. We have pain and passion. Phoenix Fridas Rising up from the flames for the state of art and craft.

INTERNATIONAL HISPANIC NETWORK

Danny Valenzuela is an Executive Business Coach, Leadership Facilitator and Organizational Consultant.

He serves as a facilitator and instructor for the Bob Ramsey Executive Education Program at Arizona State University, School of Public Programs.

Reception beginning at 6 p.m. with the "Las Fridas de Phoenix" displaying artwork and crafts Dinner at 7:00 p.m. Speaker is Danny Valenzuela. Entertainment by Phoenix College Latin Jazz Band.

Tickets are $50 per person and tables can be reserved for $500, 10 people per table. If you can not make this event or would like to make an additional contribution, please consider donating to the IHN. The International Hispanic Network is a 501(c)(3) organization dedicated to the professional development of local government appointed officials.

RSVP Zenia Cornejo at zcornejo@ci.elyo.az.us for tickets by no later than September 21st.

There will be a no host bar at the reception.

Printing courtesy of

