

Allison Linney is the President and Founder of Allison Partners and has built a career of commitment to her clients' achievement of their goals. A former consultant within Accenture's Human Performance Service Line, she received her B.A. and M.B.A. from the University of Virginia. Together with her colleagues, Allison brings both sound theory and practical experience to the challenges of organizational development. In addition, Allison Linney has provided facilitation and coaching services to the City of Charlottesville for the last five years. Through her work with City Council, the City Manager's office, many different Department Heads, and as one of the City's Community Engagement Facilitators, she's come to appreciate the joys and stressors of local government.
