

Anne Lewis is a Senior Vice President with Springsted | Waters providing executive recruitment services to non-profits, cities, counties, special districts and other public sector organizations nationwide. She has worked in local government for over fifteen years most recently serving the as the Deputy City Manager for Harrisonburg, Virginia. She obtained her Master and Bachelor degrees from Shenandoah University. She has also completed the Senior Executive Institute (SEI) and Leading, Educating, and Developing (LEAD) Certificate from the University of Virginia – Weldon Cooper Center for Public Service. She is an International City/County Management Association Credentialed City Manager. Anne serves as on the Shenandoah University Alumni Board Executive Committee. Anne is married with one daughter who is an elementary school teacher.