

Sallie Ann Burnett is the East Regional Director for the Alliance for Innovation where she coordinates member discussions on local government innovative practices and emerging ideas and participates in state association meetings, national, and international events. Prior to coming to the Alliance in 2013, she was on staff with International City/County Management Association for 15 years. She works from her office in Spartanburg, SC.