Statement of Membership Eligibility (according to the Bylaws of the National Association of County Administrators)

Block Member. State associations, among whose members are individuals who would qualify for membership in NACA, shall qualify for block membership in NACA when a mutually agreed upon portion of the state association members join NACA as corporate, associate, or honorary members, as appropriate.

Corporate Member. A county administrator, who is defined as that individual and/or their assistant(s) and staff, regardless of official title, who is directly responsible to the governing body or elected chief executive and whose official duties are primarily devoted to general management or administration of county activities may become a corporate member of the Association upon written application to the Secretary-Treasurer and approval of the Regional Vice President for the applicant’s region, and payment of any applicable dues.

Associate Member. Any person, not eligible to be a corporate member, having a professional interest in the objectives and programs of this Association may become an associate member, upon written application to the Secretary-Treasurer and approval of the Regional Vice President from the applicant’s region and payment of any applicable dues.

Retired Member. Any corporate member of NACA or a county government professional who has retired and wishes to remain affiliated with the NACA. Membership of this type shall require a written verification of retirement sent to the Secretary-Treasurer, the approval of the Regional Vice President for the applicant’s region, and payment of any applicable dues. If a retired member returns to full-time work, this type of membership and corresponding dues will convert to the appropriate type of membership until the member re-retires, at which time the retired member status will be reinstated.

Student Member. Any individual enrolled in a full-time or part-time education program who is not eligible to be a corporate member may become a student member upon the approval of the Regional Vice President from the applicant’s region and payment of any applicable dues.
